Call For Tax Slash Issued

$5 Pension Boost Asked

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Gov. Thomas J. Herbert today issued his formal call for a special session of the legislature to reduce the sales tax and make effective the $5 federal increase for old age pensioners and the blind. The session will convene Thursday afternoon.

The governor stated emphatically he would not extend the purpose of his call after the legislature convenes.

"I have no intention to ask that the national and state tickets be combined for the November elec-

Herbert said Saturday he would ask the legislature to (1) reduce revenue approximately $12,000,000 by eliminating the tax on purchases of less than 41 cents; (2) increase old age pensions and aid to the blind from $50 to $55 a month by making available increased federal funds voted by Congress at the last session, and (3) appropriate additional funds for the welfare department to meet additional food and fuel costs at state institutions. The exact figure has not been determined.

The three per cent sales tax in Ohio has been raising far greater revenue than anticipated by the legislators who inaugurated the program. Mounting revenues jumped state income, as of the end of May, to $103,012,555, much of which came from the sales tax.

Under the present tax, customers pay one cent on purchases from nine to 41 cents, two cents on purchases under 71 cents and three cents on purchases up to $1.

STILL TWO CENTS

The governor's proposed $12,000,000 slash would eliminate the tax on the first 40 cents. However, if a taxable purchase amounts to 60 cents, for example, the sales tax still would be two cents, if the purchase is 85 cents, the tax still would be three cents.

Action of the legislature would give 35,000 old age pensioners $5 additional each month. On Oct. 1, 1946, the legislature boosted maximum pensions from $40 to $50 a month. Under the federal program that becomes effective Oct. 1, 1948, the national government promises to pay $10 of the first $15 monthly and 50 per cent of payments above $15 up to $55 a month.

The legislature will be told the state welfare department faces a $750,000 deficit in grocery money.

After the announcement to call the special session, Democrats commented that the governor's move was political. Rep. Fred S. Harter said in Akron:

"The call was purely political. The Republican party is doing everything it can to get a shot in the arm."

Slots Put In Hiding By Club

Two more churches in Mansfield moved today to protest law enforcement laxity which permits open, commercialized gambling to flourish in the city.

Dr. W. M. Taylor, pastor of Park Avenue Baptist church, reported that he, together with the secretary of his church's Sunday school and the clerk of the church, have been authorized to protest the gambling situation in a letter to be sent to Mayor Roy W. Vaughn and Police Chief Jesse Schwab.

Dr. Taylor said that he brought the situation to the attention of the adult assembly of the Sunday school, following which the assembly passed a resolution authorizing the pastor and Sunday school officials to express the assembly's sentiment in the proposed letter.

The pastor said that he expected the letter to the mayor and police chief would be sent today.

SUGGESTS LETTERS

Members of another Mansfield congregation, that of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, heard their pastor, Rev. Charles F. Sheriff, suggest that individual members write letters to the mayor and police chief, expressing their sentiments.

The action of the churches yesterday follows criticism of gambling activities in the city by two other pastors, who condemned the situation from their pulpits a week earlier.

On July 11, Rev. C. W. Stoneburner, pastor of First Methodist church, and Rev. Matthew G. Madden, First Congregational church pastor, both criticized the law enforcement laxity in their sermons.

Jap 'Cocktail' Injures Red

SAGA CITY, KYUSHU, Japan—(UP)—A homemade hand grenade riddled Kyuichi Tokuda, Japan's No. 1 communist, today while he was addressing a communist rally of 3,000 persons.

Tokuda's body was pierced by 38 small holes, but the communist leader continued speaking for about 20 minutes after the bomb exploded. Then he collapsed from loss of blood and was taken to a hospital where attendants said his condition was "pretty good."

Ichiro Koga, 27-year-old coal miner, surrendered to the Japanese police a few hours after the attempt on Tokuda's life and confessed he had tried to kill the communist leader, Kyodo news agency reported.

Portuguese Halt Plane

Flying Fort Headed For Israel, Belief

SANTA MARIA, Azores — (AP) — A mysterious Flying Fortress carring 18 Americans and presumably headed for Palestine, landed here yesterday and was promptly detained by Portuguese authorities.

The airplane, ordered back to the United States from Canada, had filed a flight plan to Boston before taking off from Halifax, N. S.

One of the Americans aboard has no passport. Portuguese officials said they detained the plane under an international rule concerning undocumented craft.

The flight from Halifax took about 11 hours. The plane did not carry a full load of gas and had to make the 1,500-mile flight at reduced speed. One engine cowling was missing. It carried no radio transmitter and only two parachutes.

The airplane was impounded in Halifax a week ago by customs officials after reports that the nine men aboard when it landed there were headed for Palestine to join the Israeli air force. It was released Thursday but mechanical difficulties prevented its return to Westchester County, N. Y.

The Royal Canadian air force said Pilot Irwin R. Schindler of Miami, Fla., had given it a flight plan to Boston before his takeoff. A U. S. coast guard plane had been scheduled to escort the Fortress back to the United States but the Fortress took off unescorted Saturday night and as soon as it was in the air switched off all lights.

Map Platform For 3rd Party

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— The vanguard of Henry A. Wallace's third party began moving into Philadelphia in force today in preparation for the party's convention starting Friday.

Press headquarters were being moved into the Bellevue-Stratford hotel as party workers and delegates began pre-convention talks on platform planks.

The 53-member platform committee, headed by Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell, undersecretary of agriculture in the early days of the New Deal, is scheduled to open hearings on the platform Wednesday.

60-Plane U. S. Force Completed In Britain

SCAMPTON, England — (AP) — The last two of 60 American B-29 Superfortresses sent to Britain for "maneuvers" swooped into this Royal Air Force base today.

The operation has been described officially as a routine navigational training exercise. But the giant planes bulwark American air power in Europe at a moment of rising tension with Russia over the month-long Berlin crisis.

Churches Stand as Landmark

Retired Contractor Looks Back on Years

By EILEEN DEWHURST

Charles Heuss expects even his earliest work to last long after he has gone, and since Heuss is 89 today that statement means something.

Heuss came to Mansfield in 1880 and for the next 45 years he was busy as a stonemason and contractor, building some of the landmarks of Mansfield.

Most of the stone churches in the city are evidences of his work. In 1898 he laid the cornerstone for St. Paul's Lutheran church of which he is a member. Heuss is proud of that job. He calls it "as nice a building as there is in this town."

In 1907 he built the First Methodist church and in 1909 St. John's church. He also worked on the First Presbyterian church and St. Luke's church.

But churches are not the only examples of his work. One of his first jobs was at the Ohio State Reformatory before he went into the contracting business for himself in 1887.

SCHOOL ADDITION

He laid the foundation for what is now the Wolford funeral home and built the second addition to John Simpson High school which was later torn down. The old Newman building, which burned, was another example of his work.

"I laid thousands of feet of sidewalks all over town," Heuss commented. The stone entrances to South park and North Lake park are also his work.

Heuss built four houses for himself, three on South Mulberry street and one on Glessner avenue. "I laid every stone in this house myself," he said, referring to his home at 195 South Mulberry street.

He built the Richland Insurance building, numerous private homes, and worked on the Jones Memorial building.

CITY OF 15,000

When Heuss, a native of Germany, came to Mansfield it was a city of 15,000 residents, in contrast to its present 45,000. South Mulberry street was a large pasture. A single house stood on the corner. The downtown district didn't look much like the Mansfield of today, but most of the old buildings are still standing.

Heuss has many memories, some of them pleasant, some quite the opposite. He recalls happily his 50th wedding anniversary in 1931, six years before his wife died. He remembers sadly that terrible day in 1891 when three of his six children died in one day of diphtheria.

His three other children still reside in Mansfield. They are two sons, Louis and Fred, and a daughter, Mrs. William Huck.

Since his retirement in 1925, Heuss has taken life easy. He sits on his porch, smokes his pipe, and reads.

FAMILY DINNER

But Heuss is far from feeble. He still walks up town to the barber shop to have his hair cut. And his sense of humor hasn't diminished. He pointed to a stone flowerpot on the porch, and said "I built that thing, too."

Tonight his children will gather for a family get-together to honor their father who insists he doesn't like "a lot of fuss" made about birthdays.

"I never thought when I was 35 I'd reach 50," Heuss said.

24 Hours Remain To Pay $272,018

Richland county taxpayers have 24 hours in which to pay $272,018 to help operate their government. The deadline for paying second-half real estate taxes without penalty is 5 p. m. tomorrow.

Saturday, $26,640 was paid in, bringing the total to $739,982. Payments in letters with a Tuesday postmark will be accepted Treasurer Charles C. Payne said.

Vegetable Prices Stay High

Home Grown Food on Market

Home grown vegetables, in a variety as great as the range of prices quoted, presented a shopping challenge to city housewives today.

Home gardeners reported tomaotes ripening, sweet corn forming ears, and beans filling out their pods.

Despite the increasing flow of home grown vegetables, groceries quoted prices mostly on a par with those prevailing three weeks ago before the home grown varieties started moving to market.

Still a luxury at any market are ruddy-cheeked tomatoes which, dealers agree, will noticeably decrease in price next month.

The home-grown variety of lettuce, which sold for a few cents a head a week ago, is slowly being replaced by shipped-in lettuce now in many stores, at almost double the home-grown price.

Prices listed at various groceries today on home-grown produce are:

Item	Price
Tomatoes	25 to 39 cents a pound
Beans	15 to 29 cents a pound
Lettuce	8 to 12 cents a head
	23 cents for shipped-in
Celery	12 to 20 cents a bunch
Beets	8 to 12 cents a bunch
Cucumbers	12 to 15 cents apiece
Kale	8 cents a bunch
Squash	9 to 12 cents a pound
Cabbage	5 to 7 cents a pound
Radishes	5 cents a bunch
Onions	8 to 12 cents a bunch
Carrots	12 to 15 cents a bunch

Israeli Hit Arab Posts

Charge Truce Was Violated

TEL AVIV—(INS)—Israeli forces launched assaults on Syrian, Iraq, and Arab liberation army strongholds in northern Palestine today after asserting the Arabs violated the United Nations truce.

An Israeli army statement in Haifa said that the Arabs attacked "on almost all sectors of the northern Palestine front" after the truce took effect last night.

The announcement said that Jewish forces are counter-attacking in seven separate sectors in northern Palestine.

The Israeli statement said that Jewish forces in western Galilee have already launched an attack on Arab liberation army bases at Maj El Kurum, 10 miles east of Acre, and at Tarshisha, seven miles to the north.

Jewish forces also counter-attacked against the Syrians in three separate sectors—in the northeast corner of Galilee, at the northern tip of the Sea of Galilee, and along the eastern and southern banks of the Sea of Galilee.

Lexington Man Faces Charge

A 23-year-old Lexington man accused of trying to boost his income by splitting a $10 bill was slated for arraignment in Cleveland today before Federal Commissioner H. A. Horn.

Treasury officials charged Edward E. Lively of possessing and pasing split and raised currency notes.

They said he nearly severed a $10 bill and pasted the parts on a split $1 bill, which he passed in a cafeteria where he was employed. Officials said Lively also attempted to pass such a "stepped up" bill in a restaurant at Mansfield, where he was held in jail Thursday while awaiting removal to Cleveland.

Gets Free Parking For House

CLEVELAND—(AP)—A local resident was giving free parking space today to a two-story house, which had been parked "by mistake" on the wrong lot.

James Kratky, building contractor, said he started building the house six weeks ago, but failed to learn until about three weeks ago that he had begun construction on the wrong site. "I had a building permit for a lot I own about three lots down the street," said the harassed builder.

Mrs. Roland Englander, owner of an adjoining property, gave Kratky permission to "park" his house on her yard until a new foundation is dug on his own site.

Truman To Ask Living Cost Control

Expected to Shun Wage Ceilings

(Compiled from Wire Dispatches)

WASHINGTON—President Truman will hand the extra session of Congress Monday an administration bill to deal with rising living costs.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said the president is at work on a measure embracing virtually all of the ten-point anti-inflation program he recommended to Congress last November.

"There will be a concrete bill on high prices," Ross told reporters.

The president, he said, has not decided whether to deliver his message in person, and the date for its submission will be worked out in consultation with the Republican leadership of the two houses. Under the circumstances, Ross said, he does not know whether the message will go up Monday or Tuesday.

He said he is "unable to say at the moment" whether the president will include any foreign affairs recommendations in his message.

There was speculation that the president would drop wage controls from his anti-inflation program. Labor bitterly opposes wage controls.

Sen. Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, said he hoped Congress would speedily carry out Mr. Truman's program. No one actually expects Congress to do so.

Carousel Job Ends In Tragedy

JOLIET, Ill. — (UP) — Eleven-year-old Billy Provance had the world by the tail last night and lost it.

Billy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Provance, Joliet, went to a carnival just to listen to the music and watch the wooden horses go round. He didn't have the money to ride.

Francis Eller of Chicago, the man who owned the merry-go-round, needed a ticket taker. He offered Billy the job—one dollar and all the free rides a fella could want.

Everything was going fine, Billy was taking tickets and waving to his friends as he rode. Then Eller asked Billy to take care of the engine while he answered a call from outside.

Ellers left the carousel but before he could answer his call he heard a scream.

He raced back to find Billy in agony. The boy's right arm, caught in the gears that drove the wheel around, was ground off near the shoulder.

On the way to St. Joseph's hospital, where he is in critical condition, Billy told police, "I won't be able to play baseball now."

Seek To Block Relief

West to Use Force, Report

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — (INS — President Truman and his top state department and military leaders today held a lengthy conference on the tense and critical Berlin situation.

★

BERLIN —(INS)— The American controlled Berlin radio station Rias reported today that the Soviets have started to rip up sections of the Berlin Helmstedt railway line to defeat in advance any allied attempt to break their blockade by force.

The report was broadcast coincident with dispatches from Frankfurt saying that American military leaders are conferring with British and French experts on the plan.

Known as "operation covered wagon" the scheme would call for dispatch of an armored supply train or heavily armed convoys through the Soviet zone.

If a train were sent it would be compelled to use the Helmstedt spur which the Russians blocked off to allied traffic weeks ago on the grounds that repairs are needed.

According to Rias, sections of track are being ripped up near the chief Soviet checkpoint of Marienborn.

THREATS CONTINUE

The Russians continued their barrage of threats to jam the allied air corridor through which almost two and a half million Germans living in the western zone of Berlin are being supplied with food, fuel and other necessities.

They repeated their announcement of last week that "numerous" Yak fighter planes would take off from air fields at Dallgow, Adlershof, Schoenwalde, Brandenburg and Koethen air fields.

All these fields are in a position to interfere with the American and British air channels. The announcement said that the soviet planes would fly at 5,000 feet.

Despite similar announcements last week, the allied air shuttle continued without interruption, the only unusual event being jumps by soviet paratroopers from 3,000-foot altitudes within the corridors.

Meanwhile, reliable reports say that a drastic purge of communist party leaders and police officials in the soviet zone is under way.

The reports said that soviet authorities wish to assure themselves of full civil obedience and discipline in the event of an emergency.

PLAN TO 'CALL'

Indications that demands that the U.S. call Russia's bluff—even if it means war—have already received approval in Washington is seen in the presence in Britain of the third air division's 60 superfortresses.

The demands, hitherto confined to staff conference, were voiced openly by former Maj. Gen. William Donovan, wartime commander of the office of strategic services.

Donovan argued that if the soviets should respond to a show of force by a declaration of war, it would show that they never intended to keep the peace anyway.

Army sources said that a stiff note advising the Russians of American intentions of breaking the "siege" of Berlin is now being drafted in Washington and will be sent to London and Paris for their approval.

Ford CIO Set To Call Strike

DETROIT —(AP)— The last barrier to a Ford Motor company strike was cleared today when the CIO United Auto Workers executive board approved a walkout No date was set.

The board left it to the union's Ford negotiating committee to call out 116,000 production workers in 46 plants across the nation whenever it chooses.

The 22-man executive board approved a strike unanimously at the request of Ken Bannon, director of the UAW-CIO's Ford department.

Death of Penny-Under-40 To Save Area $367,000

If the Ohio legislature approves Gov. Herbert's request to eliminate the state sales tax on all sales under 40 cents, residents of the Mansfield area should be saved approximately $367,000 a year in penny taxes.

Figures on sales tax receipts for Richland and five neighboring counties indicate the stupendous total to which the 1-cent tax payment on small purchases mounts in a year.

Gov. Herbert, in his call for a special session of the legislature, estimated that elimination of the tax on sales under 40 cents would reduce the total sales tax receipts by $12,000,000.

State Treasurer Don H. Ebright's report on sales tax receipts for the first six months of 1948 showed more than $62,000,000 already realized. Should the same rate continue through the last six months, Ohio would realize $120,000,000 for the year. Elimination of the penny-under-40 tax then would cut total receipts by 10 per cent.

Richland county alone paid $802,000 in taxes for the first six months, Morrow paid $45,000, Knox $221,000, Huron and Crawford $270,000 each, and Ashland county $231,000.

Assuming the totals for the year would be double those figures, elimination of the 1-cent under-40 tax thus would save Richland county taxpayers approximately $160,000 a year, Morrow $9,000, Knox $44,000, Crawford $54,000, Huron $54,000 and Ashland $46,000.

A large portion of the saving naturally would benefit youngsters who now pay a penny tax on 10-cent candy bars, ice cream sodas, and the like. An even greater portion would go to working people who now must pay a penny tax on their sandwich and cup of coffee costing 40 cents or less.

State officials explained that the proposed amendment would continue the 2-cent tax on all purchases of 41 cents or more. Thus a 50-cent lunch still would carry a two-cent sales tax, as would any other type of purchase from 41 to 70 cents, inclusive. The three per cent tax would continue unchanged on all purchases above that amount.

End of the Long Trail

3,500 Service Men In Pershing Funeral Cortege

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON—(AP)—John Joseph Pershing, cavalryman, came to the end of a long trail today in Arlington's green hills.

There, in the national military cemetery, among the other soldier dead, a grave was opened for the 87-year-old general.

The trail started out more than 60 years ago through the mountains and deserts of the southwest where yesterday's cavalry fought the Indians. It passed through the war with Spain, the Philippines, and command of the American Expeditionary Force in France in the first World war. Down the trail was acclaim by a grateful nation . . . and the title "general of the armies," conferred previously only on George Washington.

At its end was a great tribute.

The President, who thirty years before had been a junior officer in Pershing's expeditionary force, came to the high-domed great rotunda of the capitol on Sunday afternoon to take a last look at his former chief, who lay in state there. With ex-artilleryman Harry Truman were high officials of the government and of the military.

Out in the capitol plaza and the blistering streets leading to it were thousands of the people who remembered the general. They filed slowly by the black-draped catafalque, thirty to the minute, for hour upon hour.

Four soldiers and an officer, as rigid and silent as the statues which flanked the rotunda, stood guard about the casket. The half-light of the rotunda, the black catafalque, the dark bronze coffin were relieved by a brilliant massing of hundreds of floral offerings.

The army planned the greatest military funeral since the unknown soldier was buried not far from the spot Pershing himself chose for his own resting place.

To escort the general on his last march, 3,500 soldiers, sailors, marines and airmen came into the city. A black cavalry horse, saddle empty, boots reversed in the stirrups, was assigned to the line of march.

But the cavalry which formed part of the great parade arranged for today contained no horses. The cavalrymen rode in armored cars like those that made the reconnaissance of World War II.

And the air force paid its tribute by ordering up a flight of swift P-80 jet fighter planes to give "air cover" for the cortege.

Democrat Bosses Helped Bring Convention Split In Party Ranks

PHILADELPHIA — The Hari-Kiri convention of the Democratic party proceeded in an atmosphere of oriental ceremony with the priests and nobles of this weird consistory all bowing in lavish etiquette, impatient for the final rite. The surveys telegraphed from here describing the fatal gala in purple hues of spiritual depression were unreliable and should be ignored.

There was an exalted fanaticism in the conduct of Frank Hague of New Jersey, for example, which suggests the illicit rapture of a Blue Ridge parson inviting a copperhead to fang him and defying the state police to impair his religious freedom.

Mr. Hague turned against President Truman in a heresy that made Jim Farley blink his eyes and murmur piously. But Mr. Hague was enjoying political freedom for the first time since 1932.

If it pleased him to make certainty more sure in revenge against the Hyde Park Haunt, who had any right to say that he was sad about it? On the contrary, he was erect and truculent as of old and probably never had felt happier since 1933.

Hague and Ed Kelly of Chicago plainly are what they are, bosses of urban machines often described as sordid by Roosevelt's long-word hacks from Harvard and the Kremlin. But he never failed to call on them for pluralities, nor failed they ever to deliver.

On one occasion, he made them both drop everything and take themselves to Hyde Park, where he rubbed their noses in humiliation by seating them obscurely but with monitors to check their presence while the library in his honor was consecrated to this living model for the pure in heart.

Let Farley enjoy the disaster however he might. Hague and Kelly were having one last fling as bosses, mocking the wretched little fellow who had had the misfortune to inherit the regime and the blame, and plucking bricks from the ruins to throw at the New Dealers.

Mr. Farley sat in 701 in the Bellevue-Stratford, a corner room, his nude scalp gleaming, and it would be a presumption to say that he was sad. For one thing, he had seen this coming a long time and the wreck of the Roosevelt machine which Jim had built and had oiled and tended with such pride for the first eight years was too plain to be denied.

Thus his knack of prophecy was vindicated again, and furthermore it was a matter for rejoicing to him that the Roosevelt boys and their mother; Harold Ickes, Leon Henderson, Wilson Wyatt, Chester Bowles and, above all, Henry Wallace, would now be buried in the same wreck with the just.

Laurence Steinhardt, the roving ambassador, just home from the seamy side of the iron curtain and weary from forty hours of travel, called on Mr. Farley and may have been depressed by other matters than the shabby carnival in Philadelphia.

★

He had gone far and seen many horrors done by the breed whom Roosevelt had hailed as brothers in democracy and peacefulness. Mr. Farley seemed to be playing out his hand according to the conventional idea of political regularity. He did not criticize Brother Hague aloud, but what else was implied by his own decision to stick to the party's President in a hopeless year?

Area Escapes As 13 Die Violently

Ohio Traffic Kills 5; 4 Persons Drowned

The Mansfield area had a clean slate of week end traffic accidents today, but at least 13 persons were reported to have died violent deaths in Ohio during the period.

Only minor "fender bender" accidents were reported by Mansfield police, state highway patrol and the sheriff's office. None of the minor accidents involved personal injury, officers said.

In the state, water mishaps ran a close second to auto mishaps in the number of lives claimed.

From midnight Friday to midnight Sunday, five persons died in traffic accidents, four were drowned, one person died in a fire, and three deaths were attributed to miscellaneous causes.

Michael Lesick, 24, of Salem, was killed when his "hot-rod" race car crashed into a fence during an automobile race at the Berea fair grounds, and Jaynell Harper, 4, Chillicothe, was fatally injured when a drinking glass was crushed in her hand.

KILLED BY TRAIN

The third death in the miscellaneous category was that of James Caldwell, 61, Portsmouth, killed when struck by a freight train at Eifort, O.

Orland Lee Brown, 20, Columbus, was drowned in the Scioto river near Columbus when he slipped from a motor-driven rowboat.

Harold Lee, 43, of Wheelersburg, his son, John H. Lee, 4, and Lee's brother-in-law, John D. Rowson, 35, Portsmouth, drowned in the Ohio river at Franklin Furnace. Lee and Rowson died in a futile effort to save Lee's son.

Traffic victims were:

Lawrence W. Pollard, 34, of Washington C. H., and his son, Paul, 13, killed when the oil truck in which they were riding collided with a parked milk truck near Dodsonville.

Paul Batcho, 29, of MacDonald, killed when the car he was driving collided headon with another car near North Jackson.

Joseph Amon, 30, of Detroit, killed when the tractor-trailer he was driving crashed into a tree near New Springfield.

Willard Haines, 22, Columbus, killed when the car in which he was riding crashed into a utility pole near Reynoldsburg.

The fire victim was Charles M. Ward, 33, whose charred body was found in his Columbus home after it was swept by a two-alarm fire. Police, however, were investigating the possibility that Ward may have been dead before the fire started.

Man Slugged, Robbed Here

City Hit By Wave Of Week-End Thefts

Week-end home and hotel room burglaries and a strong-arm robbery, in which a total of $116 in cash and property was taken, were reported today by police.

Walter Christ, 146½ North Main street, told police at 1:35 a.m. Sunday that three men approached him as he came out of a night club on East Fifth street, hit him over the head and took his billfold, containing $22.

Christ was treated at General hospital for head bruises and cuts of the left arm and released.

At 11 a. m. yesterday, Jesus Garza of Loudonville, reported that $44 was taken from his billfold at his Avalon hotel room while he was asleep between 4:30 a. m. and 9 a.m.

500 Attend Park Service

The wooded grove at South park echoed last night to the strains of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" as the choir from the First Congregational church sang during vespers, attended by about 500 Mansfield worshippers. In addition to the choir number, Miss Marjorie Selby was an unexpected guest soloist, singing, "Prayer" by Guion.

Rev. Matthew G. Madden, pastor of the First Congregational church, preached on the subject "The Thrill of Overcoming." He told his audience that there are four avenues of reaction when life is subject to some form of violence.

"There may be rebellion, surrender, self-pity or perverted stoicism," Rev. Madden said.

"However, if one responds to a blow, he consistently maintains the belief that despite circumstance he is a free, creative person. Basically, it is out of the spirit of freedom and the capacity to live creatively, that man arises above circumstances."

Last night's vesper services was the third in the summer series sponsored by the Mansfield Ministerial association.

Couples Wedded 50 Years Given Tribute

Recognition of members, and any member's parents who have been married 50 years and more, was given yesterday morning at the worship service of First Congregational church by the pastor, Rev. Matthew G. Madden, in his sermon and by the choir in its choice of music.

Seated in a special section of the church were Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Stevens; Mr. and Mrs. Harley R. Cline, whose married life has extended to 65 years; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Graham, parents of John W. Graham, a member of the church; and Mrs. Fred T. Bristor, who had observed her 53rd wedding anniversary before the death of her husband.

Others unable to be present but who were given cognizance during the service, were Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sunkle, Mrs. George Waring, and Mrs. Milton McFarland.

Taking as his sermon theme, "Through the Years," Rev. Madden said that the essentials of a lasting marriage are four-fold. He listed them as a fine sense of humor; the necessity of opposition and obstacles; the need for mental mating and an activated love.

"In all the areas of human experience," he declared, "there is no progress without resistance. Obstruction gives power."

In developing the third essential, Rev. Madden said "If marriage is to be a lasting one, each must comprehend the other's mind. There must be respect for the other's mood. Without this respect we can talk of rights and laws but not about marriage."

The choir, under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Hazeltine, sang, "Through the Years" by Vincent Youmans and "I Love Thee" by Grieg. Mrs. Albert Twitchell, organist, played as a prelude, "Golden Wedding" by Gabriel-Marie.

'Strictly Politics,' He Asserts

Congressman Visits City

Representative J. Harry McGregor today described President Truman's call for a special session of Congress, as "strictly politics."

McGregor, of West Lafayette, who represents the 17th Ohio congressional district, including Richland county, was in Mansfield visiting friends and inquiring into the problems of several veterans. He planned to go to Ashland later in the day, then to Delaware.

McGregor asserted that the President was bringing up the same issues "which not only the 80th Congress, but the 77th and 78th Congresses has discussed for months and months."

"It is ridiculous," McGregor went on, "to discuss controversial issues and do something in 15 days. That's inconsistent. What we haven't been able to do in months we can't expect to do in 15 days."

McGregor said that some of the bills the President has been blaming the Republicans for not passing, "he can lay at the doorstep of his own party."

CITES FILIBUSTERS

The representative said that the President's own party in the Senate filibustered two civil rights proposals, which the House passed. He cited the anti-lynching and anti-poll tax bills.

He said he would like to see the President make some specific requests.

"He's been talking in generalities," McGregor asserted. "I don't think he has sent up to Congress a single bill.

"If he was sincere about this legislation, you'd think he'd have stayed in Washington and been of assistance in the closing days of the 80th Congress."

Asked about the Democratic party split, McGregor said he believed it would have a great bearing on the outcome in November.

"Southern people — a lot of them—just won't vote Republican—but if they have a ticket of their own, they'll vote in protest against Mr. Truman and his philosophy. That will hinder his chances for reelection."

McGregor said the issues in November are "clearly defined."

"Truman and Barkley will endeavor to continue their record of the past—the New Deal record of tax and tax and spend and spend.

AMERICAN PROGRAM

"We Republicans have definitely formed an American program—a program on which our party was founded — which recognizes that taxes are a material part of high living costs."

He called for a reduction in government costs to keep down taxes.

The Republican outlook in November, McGregor said, was "very good."

"The people of America definitely want a change. They have come to realize that in order to continue our American form of government we must halt government expenditures and quit taking control from local people and putting it in the hands of some bureaucrat in Washington."

McGregor will make an inspection of the Mansfield postoffice Aug. 11. He is chairman of the House committee on public buildings and grounds, which, he said, has taken the position not to go ahead with public building construction at this time because of high construction costs and building materials shortages.

He said the committee feels "it would not be fair to take from private property owners materials so badly needed for homes. We are having many plans made for new federal construction so that when materials are available, construction costs are lower and unemployment exists, we will have a definite program to start immediately."

Boy Escapes Ashland Police Three Hours After Capture

A 15-year-old West Salem youth, who led authorities on a merry chase after burglarizing six Ashland establishments last night, was sought today following his early morning escape from the Ashland police department. He fled two hours and 59 minutes after his capture.

Meanwhile, a 13-year-old accomplice, also of West Salem, was detained for Ashland juvenile court action. The older boy eluded capture when the younger boy was picked up.

Mansfield police aided in the search when they apprehended the 15-year-old at the local Greyhound bus station at 1:43 a. m. today, on a "tip" from Ashland authorities.

Mansfield police returned the boy to Ashland authorities at 2:20 a. m. and at 4:42 a. m. the boy bolted from the Ashland department where he was being questioned by Patrolman Robert Hamilton.

Ashland Police Chief H. L. Smith said that before his escape, the boy admitted breaking into the following Ashland establishments: the Montgomery Ward company, the Eagles club, Ashland Sanitary Dairy, Bob's Sport store, Spreng market and the YMCA.

While being interviewed by Patrolman Hamilton, the 15-year-old also admitted breaking into the Greyhound bus station on Church street in Ashland six weeks ago and ransacking the place. No money was taken in the burglary, Chief Smith said.

Although the amount of money and merchandise taken from the six business places last night was still undetermined, Chief Smith said that the largest amount of $42.45 was taken from the sport store. Missing from the other places were merchandise and an undetermined amount of money from the Montgomery Ward store, $2 from the Eagles club, $5 from the dairy store, and cigarets and gum from the Spreng market. Nothing was believed taken from the YMCA.

Pat Seery Hits Four Homers In One Game

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK—(UP)—The much discussed and frequently cussed Pat Seerey, whose weight and batting average ride opposite ends of the fulcrum with the avoirdupois usually in the ascendancy, was the toast of baseball today for hitting four homers in one game.

That isn't a feat to be taken lightly, even when you consider the bulk of the spade-jawed Irishman currently toiling for the Chicago White Sox. Only Chuck Klein and Lou Gehrig were able to do it in the modern era of baseball.

It's a long overdue payment for the Cleveland Indians on the time and effort they gave the 25-year-old Oklahoman and a belated bouquet for Hank Greenberg, the Indian vice president in charge of batting averages. For until recently Pat was a member of the Indians. But after five years they gave up on him and sent him to the White Sox.

★

BEFORE THAT change of address, Greenberg gave Pat some batting lessons. Seerey also had shucked down from 230 pounds to 190 in an effort to stick, a change that resulted in alteration of his nickname from "fat Pat" to "flat Pat."

Well, Pat's gone from the wigwam now. But he repaid in part yesterday. Those four homers gave Chicago a split with the A's—the closest challengers to the front-running Indians.

The Indians meanwhile were winning a pair to boost their American league lead back to 1½ games. But not before Bob Feller almost let them down—again. The $80,000-a-year pitcher who has lost 11 against nine wins, a slightly less than terrific average, was blowing the nightcap by a 3 to 0 score when they pulled him out in the second game. It was his second kayo in three days. Old Sad Sam Zoldak finally came through with the victory — and made Seerey's back payment worth while.

LEO DUROCHER'S Giants and Burt Shotten's Dodgers both dropped their openers on the Sabbath. Shotton's halftime address must have overshadowed the Lip's, although they both were good for second game victories. For Burt's boys opened the second game with five runs in the first inning and eight runs in the second inning.

Durocher's dandies had been shut out without a run in the first game, but opened the nightcap with two runs in the first inning . . . they took it from there.

And just in case you hadn't noticed, the Boston Braves haven't folded without Eddie Stanky and the Red Sox still are moving without Ted Williams.

Since L'il Eddie has been carting a cast on his ankle the Braves have won five out of 10. Without the strained ribs of Williams the Red Sox have collapsed into seven victories in nine starts.

What'll they do when those guys get back?

Cleveland Wins Two as A's Divide

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

James Patrick Seerey of the Chicago White Sox has clouted his way into major league baseball's home run record book alongside such illustrious sluggers as Lou Gehrig, Ed Delahanty, Bobby Lowe and Chuck Klein.

The barrel-chested outfielder slammed four home runs in one game yesterday to become the fifth big leaguer to achieve the feat.

This one-man slugging rampage overshadowed other important Sunday results such as Cleveland's sweep of a doubleheader from Washington 2-1 and 6-4, to increase the Indians' first place lead in the American league to a game and a half, and the Boston Braves' two triumphs over Pittsburgh, 10-2 and 3-1, which gave them an eight-game bluge in the National league pennant race.

Seery belted his four home runs in an 11-inning game in which the White Sox defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 12-11, in the first game of a double header. The A's captured the second game 6-1 with the Sunday 7 p. m curfew halting proceedings after five innings

9-INNING GAMES

Lowe, Delhanty and Gehrig hit their four home runs in nine inning games. Klein cracked his four in 10 innings. Gehrig was the only other American leaguer to accomplish the feat.

Three of Seery's circuit clouts came in successive innings — the fourth, fifth and sixth The fourth snapped an 11-11 tie in the 11th.

The Braves are threatening to make a shambles of the National league pennant race, enjoying an eight game lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals, their nearest pursuers.

Nelson Potter and Jeff Heath, two former American leaguers, combined to lead the Braves to victory over the Pirates in the opener. Potter, the crafty right-hander, spaced seven hits for his first National league victory in his initial start. Heath clouted a grand slam homer to spark a five-run first inning against Elmer Riddle

Rookie righthander Vern Bickford bested Russ Meyer in the afterpiece.

Ralph Kiner spoiled Bickford's shutout bid with a home run, his 26th of the season and the 100th of his career.

Cleveland nosed out Washington twice to gain a full game on the second place Athletics and the third place Yankees.

NEWHOUSER WINS

Hal Newhouser, who begged out of the all-star game with a sore arm, gained his 14th victory of the season, pitching the Detroit Tigers to a 5-3 first game triumph over the Yankees before 62,990 fans The Yankees swamped the Tigers in the second game, halted after six and a half innings because of darkness

The fourth place Boston Red Sox moved within two and a half games of the Yankees by sweeping both ends of a doubleheader from the St. Louis Browns, 12-5 and 7-6

The Dodgers and Cardinals divided a double header before 32,761 fans, the largest crowd of the season in St. Louis A home run by Terry Moore with two mates aboard in the 11th inning sent the Cards to a 6-3 victory in the opener. The Dodgers crushed the Cards, 13-4, in the second game. The split left the two clubs in a deadlock for second place, but shoved them both ahead of the Pirates, who dropped from second to fourth, a half-game ahead of the New York Giants.

The Giants fought back to gain a split with the Reds in Cincinnati, losing the opener, 3-0, but coming back to win the nightcap, 8-2

The Philadelphia Phils and Chicago Cubs split a twin bill, the Cubs winning the opener, 3-2, and the Phils taking the second, 6-4

Shelby Legion Juniors Win First of Season

SHELBY — Utz's seventh inning homer with Bob Steele on base gave the Shelby American Legion juniors their first victory of the season here yesterday They defeated the Loudonville juniors, 7 to 6

Philly Boss Mum On Identity of His New Manager

PHILADELPHIA —(UP)— President Bob Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies was keeping his thoughts about a new manager strictly to himself today.

The rumors about a successor to Ben Chapman, dismissed as the Phils' pilot Friday, were flying thick and fast but Carpenter maintained a discreet silence, although he indicated he had narrowed the field down to a few men

Earle Brucker, coach of the Philadelphia Athletics was getting the most prominent mention. Brucker received a lot of credit for developing the Philadelphia Athletics mound staff and pitching has been the Phillies toughest problem.

EARNSHAW MENTIONED

There was some talk that the new Phils manager might come from within the organization. Eddie Sawyer, pilot of the Phillies Toronto farm club in the International league, was regarded as a likely candidate along with George Earnshaw, the former Athletics pitcher who now is a Phils' scout and rookie pitcher coach.

Bill Jurges of the Chicago Cubs and George Kelly of the Cincinnati Reds reportedly were seeking the job Others mentioned as possible candidates were Dusty Cooke, Phils temporary manager; Mel Ott, deposed New York Giants pilot; Jimmy Dykes, manager of the Hollywood club in the Pacific Coast league and Mell Stock, Chicago Cubs coach.

Legion Junior Club Wins District Title

BELLEVUE—Mansfield's American Legion Junior baseball team is district champion for the ninth time in twelve years after winning its 14th consecutive game, 9-2, in the finals with Galion here yesterday.

Manager Dewey Durant's Juniors will now take a two-week vacation from tournament competition before the opening of the state meet on August 2. Mansfield has never won a state tournament.

Yesterday's game marked the fourth straight time Mansfield has mastered Galion this year: The locals won twice from Galion in sectional competition and after both teams advanced to the district, beat them twice more in the double elimination joust.

USES FULL SQUAD

Durant used his entire squad of 15 players in yesterday's finale with three men seeing action at all three outfield posts. Dutch Bader went all the way on the mound and scattered eight Galion hits.

Bader also was the big gun in the batting attack as he rapped out four hits and drove in three runs, enough to win the game.

Mansfield got off to a one-run lead in the top half of the first inning when Cy Elsass walked and scored on two errors. Galion tied the game in the second when Third-baseman Ray Seif hit a home run, but Mansfield went ahead to stay with three in the third.

Bader led off with a single, Buck McKeever walked and Mike Gruber got on by an error, Bader scoring. Wisler dropped Sparkie Watts' long fly to left field and McKeever and Gruber romped home.

THREE IN SIXTH

Three more Mansfield runs came in the sixth on singles by Watts, Joe Distl and Ken McCally and a double by the red-hot Bader.

Hits by Distl and Bader produced another tally in the eighth while the final score came on a walk to Mike Gruber and single by Watts.

★

The Legion has exhibition games scheduled at the Ohio State Reformatory Saturday and at Loudonville Sunday. Durant also plans to book some Hot Stove major league teams.

Winemiller Leads Softball Hitting List

Although Mary Miller's average fell off during the past week, a girl softballer still leads the batting parade in the six Mansfield leagues according to averages released today by Fred LaRue of the Recreation department.

Mary Winemiller, Tappan Stove, is the leading clouter with 11 hits in 15 trips for a mark of .735 while Miller, Lumbermens, now has .684. Third in the Girls' loop is Jean Kauffman, Lumbermens, with .632.

Second in the city and tops among the men is Burkhart, First Methodist catcher, with a startling .689. He has 19 hits in 29 trips. Richard Eccles, Greystone Nite club shortstop, has a mark of .600.

★

Two games in the Park Softball league are scheduled today at 6 p. m. Gorman-Rupp juniors play at Prospect and Johns at North Lake in league play.

Tomorrow, Ohio Brass plays Tappan Stove under the Gorman-Rupp lights in a Girls' league game. Newman and Prospect of the Hot Stove Elementary Baseball league meet in a prelim.

Grays Notch 6-to-2 Win Over Canton

The Mansfield Grays won their twelfth victory in 21 starts yesterday at Blue Goose diamond by defeating Canton Road Furniture, 6-2.

Another well-pitched game by Jack Hammett was largely responsible for the victory. Hammett allowed eight base hits but kept them well scattered and walked only one batter. He struck out nine.

Kenny Funk was the offensive hero as he got three hits to either drive in or score five of the Grays' six runs. The other was a fifth inning home run by Don Hardy and Funk rode home ahead of Hardy on that.

TAKE EARLY LEAD

The Grays jumped into a two-run lead in the first when Red Hamman singled with two men out. Funk followed with another hit and Jim Guest blasted a double to score Funk and Hamman.

Funk scored in the third inning when he singled, moved to second on Guest's walk and came in on a single by Dean Hahn.

Hamman walked to lead off the three-run outburst in the fifth inning. Funk then blasted his third hit, a triple, and Hardy connected for his home run.

With a six-run lead, Hammet eased up a bit and allowed a double and home run in the seventh inning for the only Canton tallies.

Shelby Loses At Lancaster

SHELBY — The Lancaster Anchor-Hocking team revenged an earlier defeat by blanking the Shelby Blues 4 to 0 at Lancaster yesterday.

Utilizing the tricky pitching of John Murray, former St. Louis Cardinal and Cincinnati Red star, recently releaseed from the Syracuse Chiefs, the glass-blowers held the Blues to three scattered hits.

Paul Hartz was the losing pitcher. He was relieved by Herb Hart after pitching six and two-thirds innings.

Don Zeiters, Don Fought and Herb Hart were the only Shelby batters to solve the pitching of Murray, who only struck out six men but caused the others to be easy outs.

The Blues next game will be with the Mansfield Grays at Mansfield Wednesday at 5:30 p. m.

LEESVILLE — Volk, Leesville first baseman, clouted four home runs and a single in five times at bat here yesterday as Leesville walloped Shiloh, 16-2. Nine home runs in all were hit in the game.

Leesville will go to Ada next Sunday to play in the National Baseball Congress state tournament.

Indians Increase American Lead

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today eyed a new one and one-half game lead after carving out a twin triumph over Washington yesterday. The Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox split their bargain bill

Outfielders Dale Mitchell and Allie Clark shared honors in Cleveland's hectic 6-4 nightcap victory after southpaw knuckleball hurler Gene Bearden subdued the Nats 2-1 for his eighth victory against three losses in the opener.

A parade of six pitchers, starting with luckless Bob Feller and ending with winner Sam Zoldak, toiled for the Indians in the important 12-inning finale.

Shut out while Feller was on the mound, the tribe rallied for a pair of two-run innings to move ahead of the Nats 4-3 entering the ninth frame of the second game. Clark then saved the game with a sensational leaping catch against the right field wall for the third out after Bob Lemon yielded the tying run in the ninth.

Mitchell extended his batting streak to 15 consecutive games with a towering triple in the 12th and tallied the winning marker on Thurman Tucker's fly Clark then rapped his third hit of the game, a single, and circled the bases with an "insurance" tally on an error and Joe Gordon's long fly.

A single by Mitchell in the first inning of the opener, plus a walk and Manager Lou Boudreau's one-bagger, gave Cleveland its initial tally Jim Hegan's triple scored Gordon from first with the winning margin for Bearden in the opener Russ Christopher hurled the final out after a brief Nat rally in the ninth

Potato Growers Warned of Danger of Harvest In Hot Sun

Home Grown Crop Comes To Market

Quick Picking Avoids Danger

By PAUL KELLAM
N-J Farm Reporter

As home-grown new potatoes reached the market in Mansfield and Richland county, potato growers were warned to use care in harvesting on hot, bright days.

John Bushnell, horticulturist at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station, Wooster, pointed out that potatoes should be picked up shortly after they are dug, allowing time only for the surface to dry before being hauled in or covered.

Bright sunlight on freshly-dug potatoes dries down and kills any interior parts which are exposed by cuts or skinning. These wounds normally heal thoroughly within three or four days.

If exposed to bright sun, especially on windy days, the wounds dry down, forming a crust or scar that prevents healing.. Under the dry scar, the potato slowly decomposes and within a week or so a soft, wet spot appears.

SOUTH KNOWS DANGER

In the South, where early potatoes are grown for shipment to northern markets, the danger of injury from sunshine is well known and guarded against by having pickers follow the digger closely. On bright days, harvesting is discontinued for a while in midday.

In Ohio, the damage from sun injury is not as common as in the South. The early crop moves to consumers very rapidly and complaints of soft spots are not very common.

However, since losses from sun injury can be entirely prevented, Bushnell urges growers to use forethought in planning the harvesting operation so that no losses from sun injury will occur.

GOVERNMENT SUPPORT

The AAA announced today that government support prices for the summer crop of late potatoes in Ohio will be $2.70 per hundredweight during the months of July and August.

Dale C. Williams, chairman of the Ohio Production and Marketing committee, said the price was for U. S. No. 1 grade. Basic support prices for U. S. No. 1 grade sie B, and No. 2 grade, 1—7-8 inches minimum diameter are 50 per cent lower or $1.35 per hundredweight.

Williams explained that the bulk of the potato crop in late states is marketed from September on, and support prices for the entire late crop season will be announced after the July 1 parity price becomes available. The complete price support schedule is designed to reflect 90 per cent of the July 1 parity figure.

QUALITY COUNTS—Quality of wheat means a lot to elevator operators and farmers alike and the first of the Richland county crop looks pretty good. Robert R. Hammett, manager of the Farmers' Equity Exchange elevator at Lucas, the first in Richland county to receive local wheat, found that early receipts tested full No. 1 quality. The tester he operates above indicates moisture content and quality by giving the accurate weight of a given volume.—(News-Journal photo)

Legislative Candidates Invited to Farm Meeting

Invitations have been extended to Neil S. Robinson and Clifford L. Mitchell, both of Mansfield, Republican and Democratic candidates for the state legislature, to attend the 17th congressional district meeting to be held Aug. 5 at Mt. Vernon and sponsored by the Knox county Farm Bureau.

Featured speakers will be Congressman J. Harry McGregor, Republican, and Robert W. Leverenz, his Democratic opponent. The meeting will be held at the County Fairgrounds in Mt. Vernon at 8 p. m.

George McClelland, Fredericktown, chairman of the meeting, said each candidate had been asked to state his position on issues he believed important in the forthcoming election.

Although the meeting is being sponsored by the Farm Bureau, J. Chester Ward and Lee Underwood, chairman of the Republican and Democratic county executive committees, have given the meeting their support and the meeting is open to both rural and urban residents of the six counties that make up the 17th congressional district.

Invitations also have been issued to Ralph A. Winter, Republician of Lodi, and Carl J. Longwell, Democrat of Lorain, candidates for state senate, and to the chairman of the Richland county executive committees of both parties.

Ferris Owen, Licking county farmer and congressional spokesman for the Farm Bureau in the 17th District, will introduce the speakers.

Oliver Rinehart, chairman of the legislative committee; Gail Hammett, organization director, and J. Arnold Burkhart, county manager of Richland county, are planning to attend.

Farm Safety Week To Open Monday

National Farm Safety week will be held from July 25 to July 31 this year in an effort to eliminate an estimated 30,000,000 hazards on the nation's farms.

Officially proclaimed by President Truman, the drive is sponsored by the National Safety Council, the United States Department of Agriculture, the National Fire Protection association, the Farm Equipment institute, the American Farm Bureau federation, the Farmer's Union and the National Grange.

Two Will Attend Meeting of AAA

Guy Taylor, Richland county AAA chairman, and Mrs. Michael Petrovich of the AAA office, will attend a district AAA meeting Thursday at Bucyrus.

Subject of the discussion will be 1948 wheat loans to district farmers and procedure in handling loan applications. Joseph Wilbert, of Vickery, O., field man for the district, will preside.

Average Age Of Farmers Goes Higher

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ohio State university farm economists aren't so much worried over farmers' ability to raise enough food for the nation.

But, they are disturbed over the trend in farmers' ages.

The last survey of U. S. population, said Professor John Sitterley of the rural economics department, showed no gains in rural population although the national total continued to climb.

And, he said, in recent years farm owners in the 20-30 year group have decreased, and the number past 50 years has increased.

Farmers still will produce enough food to feed everyone in the United States; said Sitterley, but they will not produce enough of their most valuable crop—the young men and women who traditionally migrate to the cities.

Stealing No Longer Legal

ALBANY, Ore. —(AP)— It's not legal to steal in this 84-year old city any more.

Until now, apparently, it was quite all right to steal things in Albany — provided you picked small items, worth less than $30. The city fathers found out about it when a petty larceny case came up in municipal court. There wasn't an ordinance in the book forbidding such thefts.

The city council hastily passed an ordinance making it a crime to steal any article costing less than $30. Bigger thefts, handled by state courts, were already verboten.

Farm Bureau Backs Soil Conservation

Trustees of the Richland county Farm Bureau announced today endorsement of a soil conservation program in the county.

The program was discussed in detail at the regular meeting of the board Wednesday in the Mansfield office of the Farm Bureau. The trustees agreed unanimously by motion to help promote a soil conservation district in Richland county and to urge all farmers to get out and vote for such a program when an election is held in the near future.

"For many years the income of the farmer has not permitted him to build his soil to the maximum of production," the Bureau said. "He has found it necessary to spend many dollars for the purpose of purchasing commercial fertilizer in order to produce even a minimum of food.

"A great deal of scientific testing has been done in recent years and we have discovered that much of our land has never contained the necessary minerals for maximum production or healthful living.

"Many million tons of top soil are annually carried out to sea by the process of erosion, and nothing had been done to stop this great waste until the last decade which has brought about a program of soil conservation.

"This program is being accepted very rapidly by farmers over America and many counties in Ohio now have a very active soil conservation program, which is proving to be of great benefit to the individual farmer from the standpoint of checking soil erosion, reforesting, and pasture improvement."

Knox Fair Opens Tuesday

The county fair season is on.

First of the county fairs scheduled in the Mansfield area will open Tuesday in Mt. Vernon. The Knox county exhibition will continue through July 31.

Ohio's 1948 county and independent fair season will get underway tomorrow when the annual Jackson county fair opens at Wellston. The Jackson county event will continue through next Saturday.

Other fairs scheduled during July are Fayette county, at Washington C. H., July 27-31. and Lawrence county, at Ironton, July 27-31.

The Ohio fair season will reach its climax with the annual Ohio state fair at Columbus Aug. 28-Sept. 3, and will end with the annual Fairfield county fair at Lancaster, Oct. 12-16.

Dairy Day Program Set

A number of Richland county farmers are planning to attend the 1948 Dairy Day program, Aug. 13 at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station, Wooster.

One of the interesting features will be a discussion on "Blood Will Tell," by Dr. L. C. Ferguson, veterinarian for the dairy department.

Dr. Ferguson pointed out that in addition to the many present uses of blood tests on cattle, future applications may help measurably in the study of inheritance of milk production, disease resistance and other complex factors in cattle.

Dr. Fordyce Ely, dairy chairman at the station, is in charge of arrangements for the program.

Bake Sale To Benefit Rural Center

Women of Richland county granges will sponsor a bake sale Saturday, July 24, beginning at 10 a. m.

The sale will be held at 791 Springmill road in a new store building owned by Ira Bowman and will be for the benefit of the Richland Rural Life center.

Items to be sold will include cakes, pies, cookies, rolls, bread and doughnuts. Some miscellaneous kitchen items including tables, dishes and cooking ware will also be offered at the sale.

Huron Picks CROP Plan Chairman

Heyman to Direct Collection of Food

Dan W. Heyman of Monroeville was elected as Huron county chairman of the Christian Rural Overseas Program at a meeting last week at the court house.

The CROP program, sponsored by Church World Service, Lutheran World Relief and Catholic Rural Life, is a program to furnish food which is urgently needed to save the lives of starving people overseas.

The Huron county CROP plan has been simplified to enable farmers to designate at their elevator at the time they sell their wheat the number of bushels they wish to give to CROP. The county elevators are cooperating in accepting the responsibility of seeing that wheat gets on the CROP food train which will leave Ohio Aug. 10.

Farmers not planning to sell their wheat from the combine or thresher are asked to take their donation to their local elevator the next time they go for supplies.

If wheat has already been converted to cash, or if farmers wish to make a cash contribution, the Agricultural Extension service, the Production and Marketing Administration office or the local elevator will accept the donation. Cash contributions will be used to defray the costs of shipping and handling the wheat.

Ginger Takes Role

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Ginger Rogers will replace Judy Garland opposite Fred Astaire in "The Barleys of Broadway." Miss Garlands' doctor, MGM studio said, Garland's doctor, the studio said, has determined she is suffering from nervous exhaustion and has ordered her to take a three months rest.

Hot Weather Tips Listed On Care of Farm Animals

As hot weather continues in Richland county, the American Foundation for Animal Health, in Columbus, issued a summer-time warning concerning heat stroke and heat exhaustion in work animals.

They are two very different problems, the foundation emphasized, although both can be largely prevented by proper feeding practices and plenty of shade. But the similarity ends right there, the Foundation said.

"When a horse or mule is actually stricken," they warned, "the symptoms and the methods of treating heat exhaustion are entirely different from those of heat stroke.

"Heat exhaustion usually attacks an over-fat animal. Symptoms may include extreme dullness, patchy sweating, slow breathing and a weak pluse. Veterinarians find that such cases usually respond to certain stimulants, and the patient should always be blanketed and given rest and quiet.

"Heat stroke, on the other hand, appears as a sudden shock. The horse quits sweating and becomes delirious or unconscious. Other symptoms include lack of muscular control, a fast pulse, difficult breathing and high fever.

Home Loans Total 11,800 In 6 Months

Average of $5,108 Reported For Ohio

Ohio savings and loan associations during the first half of 1948 made 11,800 construction loans on new homes, 22,000 loans on existing residential property and 10,200 loans for refinancing or remodeling existing units of shelter, Don L. Tobin, executive secretary of the Ohio Savings and Loan League, said today in Columbus.

While the total number of units financed approximates 44,000, it is slightly less than the number for the corresponding period of last year, but the number of construction loans made on new property almost doubled the number of construction loans for the same period last year, he said.

During the first half of 1948, Ohio savings and loan associations loaned $235,000,000 as against $255,000,000 for the similar period of 1947. The average loan for the first half of 1948 amounted to $5,108 as against $5,126 in the first half of 1947. This small decrease in the average amount loaned came in the face of increased prices and is in line with the deflationary efforts of savings and loan associations throughout the last 12 months.

REPAID 165 MILLION

Savings and loan associations were repaid $165,000,000 during the first half of 1948 by mortgagors who maintained a payment record not excelled in any six months' period in recent years.

Ohio savings and loan associations during the first half of 1848 received $255,000,000 in gross new savings, an increase of about 4 per cent over gross new savings for the first half of 1947.

Net new savings for the first half of the year, however, were off about 33 1-3 per cent in comparison to net new savings for the first half of the preceding year, owing to an increase in withdrawals brought about by higher cost of living, purchase of property, automobiles and other hard goods heretofore not available in quantity to the consumer.

The 610 savings and loan associations in Ohio as of June 30, 1948, had total resources of $1,739,500,000, Tobin stated.

Walter Lippman Speaks

Truman Forgets Dignity

In the annals of the American government the scene enacted by Mr. Truman in the middle of the night at the close of the Democratic convention is unique in its disrespect for the dignity of his office and the proprieties of the Constitution.

It was not pretty to think of the President of the United States hanging around backstage for hours, waiting to accept a nomination which had not yet been tendered to him.

Even though he knew that the convention had no alternative but to nominate him, a decent respect for the forms of democracy would have told him that until the delegates had voted, they were in principle free to make another choice, and that, like Governor Dewey, who waited in his hotel, he must not enter the hall.

But his action when he appeared before the delegates was an even more flagrant departure from the standards of conduct which the President of the United States is in honor bound to observe. In the early hours of the morning, in the presence of a disorderly partisan meeting, Mr. Truman announced that he was convening the Congress for the purpose of promoting his own election.

The President, says the Constitution, "may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both houses."

A more extraordinary extraordinary occasion than this one it would be difficult to imagine: a deliberate avowed effort to make the voters believe that they must choose, not between a Truman administration and a Dewey administration, but between Truman's legislative proposals and the legislative record of the Eightieth Congress; that because Harry S. Truman cannot lead this Congress, Mr. Dewey will not want to lead and will not be able to lead the next Congress.

BELONGS TO PEOPLE

The Congress belongs to the whole people, not to a party, and it is an abuse of the Constitutional power of the President to convene it in extraordinary session under these circumstances and for these purposes.

Mr. Truman cannot even pretend that the public interest compelled him to call the special session. For if his main concern were inflation and housing, he would have told Congress when it adjourned that he would call it back as soon as the conventions were over.

He would never have waited to announce that decision until he could use it to give a kick and a punch to his own personal campaign for election.

Were his interest in the measures he mentioned sincere in the sense that he wants them enacted, he would have told the Republican and Democratic leaders of Congress weeks ago that they must stay in Washington all summer to deal with them. He did not do that

He did not even stay in Washington himself during the crucial weeks at the end of the session, working as the President can and should to lead his own party and to bring about agreement with the other party.

Mr. Truman's actions are not those of a man who wants Congress to legislate but of a man who wants to fight Congress because he has figured it out that he can do better against Martin, Taber, Allen, and Halleck than against Dewey and Warren.

The most serious aspect of the matter is the disclosure of how thin and fragile are the safeguards and restraints of his own conception of the public interest, how secondary and subordinate they are likely to be in the strategy and tactics of his campaign.

The Truman platform on the subject of foreign affairs is alarming. For just as the calling of the special session is a reckless and frantic effort to exploit domestic issues for partisan ends, so in this section of the platform there are all the indications that the international crisis may also be exploited for partisan ends.

The platform is a scandal of ingratitude, ungenerosity, and untruth. The Truman administration claims the sole credit for the United Nations Charter and the European Recovery Program, as if Mr. Truman could have achieved them without the labors of Senator Vandenberg and Mr. Dulles, without the active influence of Mr. Dewey and Mr. Stassen.

PUTS SELF ABOVE ALL

The question is what else Mr. Truman will do if some smart adviser tells him he can get some votes. There is no knowing. A man who in one night will call a special session of Congress in order to precipitate a fight on domestic issues and will knock the moral foundations from under the bipartisan foreign policy, has cast away the restraints which would make his actions predictable.

The international crisis is very grave What assurance is there now that Mr. Truman, who is a weak President and is at heart a jingo, will resist the temptation to exploit it? Because he is weak, the control of the great decisions, particularly about the crucial problem of Germany, is and has been from the beginning quite beyond him. He has not even kept the control of these decisions in the Department of State: though our German policy is in fact (more) the detriment of our whole European policy, and will be decisive for peace or war, it is notorious that it has not been made by the President, nor by Secretary Marshall, nor by the so-called "policy makers" but by General Clay and General Draper, and in the Pentagon, and in London, and in Berlin.

Our German policy has led inexorably, as it was self-evident it would, to the predicament which now exists in Berlin. In dealing with this predicament we now find ourselves up a diplomatic blind alley. We have delivered three notes to the Russians which demand the immediate lifting of the blockade. But these notes contain —the French note is explicit and categorical—an assurance to the Russians that our demands, though peremptory and insistent in language, will not be enforced.

At the same time these same notes announce a refusal to negotiate any question, even the question of the blockade.

Thus we are now in a position where we have made a demand which we will neither enforce nor negotiate. Is it any wonder that the demand was rejected, and that we are scratching our heads trying to think what to do next?

It is here that the country will need to be on guard. For the temptation to be reckless, and to take a spectacular plunge which arouses excitement and diverts attention, will increase as the predicament in Berlin becomes more exasperating, more costly, and more humiliating, as the German policy which caused it becomes more patently unworkable, as the diplomacy which has aggravated it becomes more rigidly restricted to alternatives which are equally disagreeable.

3—In Memorium

IN MEMORIAM—
I cannot say, and I will not say.
That she is dead. she is just away!
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand
She has wandered into an unknown land.
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since she lingers there.
And you—oh you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time steps and the glad return
Think of her faring on, as dear
In the love of There, as the love of Here
Think of her still as the same, I say.
She is not dead—she is just away
Sadly missed by her parents and family.

In memory of Louise Miller, who died July 19, 1946.

Russia Will Hold Edge at Danube Meet

Ex-Hitler Powers Will Have Vote

LONDON—(U.P.)—For the first time since World War II, three former Hitler satellites will get an equal voice and an equal vote with their conquerors at an international conference this month.

The occasion will be the international conference on the Danube which opens in Belgrade on July 30. It will be attended by the United States, Great Britain, France, the Soviet Union, the Soviet Ukraine, Yugoslavia — all members of the United Nations; Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary, former enemies; and Austria, which had a special category during the war and will be only an observer at the conference.

The "cold war" between Russia and the west has blocked the admission of former Nazi satellites—which have not become communist satellites of Russia—into the United Nations.

But at Belgrade they will have equality even with the great powers, thus giving Russia for the first time in postwar history a clear two-thirds majority in this international conference. One of the most interesting possible developments will be whether the west, certain to be out-voted, will agree to abide by the two-thirds decisions of the east.

The Danube conference dates back to the long rows at the Paris peace conference two years ago over the satellite peace treaties. But disagreement over the international status of the Danube between Russia and the western powers dates back more than a century.

FATE OF DANUBE

The forthcoming conference will be confused and obscured by many political, economic and technical arguments. But the fundamental issue is simple:

Shall the Danube — Europe's greatest river and navigable from its mouth on the Black sea 1,000 miles through the heartland of Europe—be open on equal terms to the trade and shipping of all nations of the world?

Ever since the Congress of Vienna in 1815 Great Britain has upheld the principle of equal rights for all on the Danube.

For almost as long, and certainly ever since the treaty of Paris in 1856, Russia has contested this principle and sought special privileges for herself and the nations bordering the Danube.

Thus the controversy is not one brought about by the current ideological struggle between eastern communism and western democracy. It existed before Karl Marx published his manifesto and before Lenin and Stalin were born.

Today the two sides of the debate are the same as they were a century ago:

1. Great Britain, supported by the United States and France, holds that the European commission for the Danube, established in 1856 to control the river from its black sea Delta and the Port of Braila in Romania, and the international commission, set up in 1920 to extend that control upstream from Braila to Ulm in Austria and to all navigable tributaries, are still in force. The western countries want to reinstate this international control and thus guarantee equal treatment of all commerce and shipping.

2. Russia always has and under present communist regime still does oppose such freedom to all and wishes to limit the privileges and rights of nations which are not actually on the banks of the river.

HERO ON ROAD TO RECOVERY—Alphonse McDonald, South Boston, Mass., who lost both legs in a heroic attempt to stop a runaway streetcar crowded with passengers at Egleston Square, Boston, leaves the hospital 95 days after his misfortune, en route to a convalescent home to be fitted with artificial legs and trained in using them. He kisses his 1½-year-old son, Joseph, held by Mrs. McDonald, while three other sons watch. They are (from left) Walter, 4; John, 7, and Lawrence, 5.—(International)

COMMON PLEAS COURT

John Candelori sr. and John Candelori jr., 199 Rhein avenue, vs. Richard N. Van Dyne, 424 Edgewood road. Defendant files demurrer to their amended petition, asking $17,775 judgment, alleging they helped defendant set up Clothes of Distinction, 827 Ashland road, giving up their own tailoring business in Steubenville, but that Van Dyne, according to their petition, refused to give them half-interest as agreed. Van Dyne, in demurrer, says that rights or damages, if any, were individual to each. His attorneys are C. F. Creedman and Beam and Beam.

Locusts Hit Nut Output

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—Invasion of the southern and eastern counties of Ohio by the 17-year locust has put a serious crimp in the food supply for squirrels, deer and other nut and acorn eating animals, Dr. E. D. Martin, chief of the game management and propagation section of the Ohio Division of Conservation, reported today.

Dr. Martin said that from 25 to 50 per cent of the nuts crop will probably be lost as food for nut eating animals in 37 counties because of the locust invasion.

The female of the locust spreads its killing campaign by cutting channels or grooves in the extreme ends of twigs to serve as a nest for laying its eggs. The twig dies and often breaks off, affecting development of acorns and nuts which are borne near the ends of the twigs.

Pair United After Wait Of 27 Years

NEW YORK —(U.P.)— Twenty-seven years ago, Leonard Uren of Redruth, England, kissed his blonde bride of five days goodbye and sailed for America.

"I'll build you a home over there and send for you, Annie," he promised.

His voice had all the confidence of a youthful lover and Annie believed him.

They met again over the week end when an airline hostess led Annie, now 60 years old and grey-haired, into a reception room at LaGuardia field where Uren awaited her.

When Annie walked in, he leaped to his feet and limped toward her—his legs were injured a few years ago in a mine accident at Ironwood, Mich.

"Annie, my Annie," he murmured. "It's so good to see you again."

Tears filled his eyes as he took her in his arms. There were tears in Annie's eyes also. But they didn't show through the dark glasses she wore. Annie lost her sight about 10 years after Uren left England.

She ran her fingers tenderly over his face.

"I'd never know you by your voice, Len," she said. "You've got a real Yankee brogue now."

Uren said when he came to this country he went straight to Ironwood, where many of the miners are Cornwall men. But he didn't make money as fast as he thought he would. The home he promised never materialized. Annie's trip was put off.

Then her eyes began to go bad. An injury suffered in a munitions plant during World War I got worse. In 10 years she was blind. She became afraid to leave England because of her handicap.

Uren boarded at the home of Mrs. Bessie Wilcox in Ironwood. Each week he sent Annie part of his paycheck and pleaded for her to come to him. Finally she was convinced he needed her to make a home for him in Ironwood.

Her fears were forgotten as soon as she arrived.

"Are you happy to be here, Annie," Uren asked.

"Yes, now I am," she replied. "We've been a long time parted."

"Never more, Annie," he promised. "Never more."

Hollywood's Newest Glamor Girl Denies She Has Any!

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD — (U.P.) — Ava Gardner said today she's having a tough time living up to her billing as Hollywood's newest No. 1 glamour girl. Ava claims she hasn't any glamour.

Miss G. shyly says she's shy. She also is frightened and hasn't a single notion how a movie star ought to act off screen, she says. In fact, she's not even sure she's a movie star.

What L. B. Mayer will say when he hears about this, we don't know. After all, Miss Gardner's been married to Mickey Rooney and Artie Shaw. She's dated Howard Hughes, and she's supposed to be the successor to Lana Turner. On film Ava looks mighty glamorous, but what about a movie star's reputation of looking glamorous every place else?

"I wear very little makeup when I work," she says. "Can't stand the gooey stuff. Off the screen I don't wear any, and I dress the way I want to."

This usually consists of pedal pushers, flat shoes, a baggy button-up sweater, and a shoe string tied around her hair. Such attire fightens some Hollywood people who figure movie stars ought to look the same all the time.

Once a publicist brought a columnist to see Ava on the set and spied her out of make-up and in jeans. He hastily told the columnist that Miss Gardner wasn't in today. The columnist didn't even recognize her.

"Nobody does," said Ava, on a note of triumph.

"I photograph differently than I look, thank goodness. My hair looks darker, and my eyes do, too. Nobody spots me, which is wonderful, for I'd hate it if they did."

Zanesville Lady Lost 35 Lbs. Thanks to Rennel

Mrs. Clara Clice, 513 Moxahala Ave., Zanesville, Ohio writes us, "I feel 100% better since taking Rennel and I have lost 35 pounds. Before I felt tired and lazy but now I have more pep than I have had in years."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Rennel is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on and obtain genuine Rennel.

Battle Over Shelby Light Plant Finances Looms Tonight

City Council To Review New Report

Higher Cost of Expansion Seen

SHELBY—A battle over financing the expansion of Shelby's Municipal Light and Power plant looms tonight at the city council session.

Expansion plans have already been approved and $400,000 worth of bonds have been sold. However, there is an indication that the amount needed to complete the expansion probably will be closer to $1,000,000.

The first estimate on the power plant expansion placed the cost at $400,000. The money was raised by the sale of bonds.

J. R. Emery, a representative of the Toledo engineering firm, handling the expansion program, submitted a report to Mayor W. R. Morris and Utilities Manager J P. Atkins last week. If certain changes are required city officials believe the new report will place the figure for completing the project close to the million dollar mark.

Full details of the report have been withheld. Emery told city officials he would be present for tonight's session to explain the financial side of the expansion. The report has been delayed for six weeks.

The city authorized the sale of bonds for the purchase of a turbine with auxiliary equipment and housing facilities. City council members have learned that new changes may boost the cost. Many admittedly favor the expansion, but weren't in accord with the city's plan of floating a loan without obtaining a full report.

In addition, council will receive a report on the financial condition of the power plant. It has been requested since spring.

2 Churches Add Protests

writing to officials charged with law enforcement came from an active Mansfield church woman, who asked that her name be withheld.

Two other church pastors also are interesting themselves in the situation, they said.

Rev. John C. Melchert, pastor of St. John's Evangelical church, said he intends to present the matter to the Sunday school board of his church and that some action probably would be forthcoming Sunday.

Although he did not bring the subject before his general congregation, Rev. John Gensel, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, said that he expects to urge next Sunday that members write letters to city officials.

'SLOTS' IN HIDING

Meanwhile, at least one Mansfield club which had been displaying slot machines, removed or put them under cover following last Saturday's announcement by State Liquor Enforcement Chief Don T. Geyer that he planned to investigate this week in Mansfield to determine whether he could find evidence of a tie-up between liquor and gambling interests

Still silent on the general situation, Police Chief Schwab today reported that investigation is continuing into the bombing of the Crescent cafe, early on the morning of July 5.

The chief added that there "is nothing definite so far," but said that police "hear about it every day."

The first will be held at Bowman school branch library at 11 a m., the second at the public library at 2 p m.

War Jitters Blamed as Stock Market Makes Sharp Drop

NEW YORK — (AP) — A weakened stock market fell rapidly today with trading volume so high that the ticker tape was late twice during the first hour.

Oil stocks, which had been leaders in last month's bull market rise, suffered a severe sinking spell that carried them from $2 to as much as $9 a share lower. Superior Oil of California dropped $19 a share to $200, an exceptionally wide swing because of its high price.

Losses covered almost the entire list and included automobile manufacturers, railroads, steel companies and metals.

More than 3,000 Mansfielders enjoyed the cool breezes as they listened to the city's two band concerts last evening.

At stadium field back of Senior high school, a crowd of 2,500 listened to music provided by the American Federation of Musicians, Local 159. Dr. Louis Pete, director of music at Ashland college, directed the band of more than 40 musicians.

The crowd, more than double that of last week, applauded all the selections, but particularly enjoyed the trumpet solos by Chester Fair. He played "Carnival of Venice," by Staigers and "Trees," by Rasbach.

At least 500 others listened to the music of Smart's accordion band, conducted by Eugene Smart, at North Lake park

Jo Ann Cristman and Nelson Bolen were the featured accordion soloists

The arrangement of selections from the musical "Oklahoma" proved a favorite. Elaine Wilkins, Edward De Witt, Jerry Hanley and Mary Shreffler were the featured vocalists in this arrangement.

Several times in the hour-long program the crowd joined Jerry Hanley in singing a number.

A special arrangement of "Now Is the Hour" was repeated last night with the entire group as vocalists

F. D. Gillingham is president of the North Lake Park association, which is sponsoring the weekly concerts.

Name 2nd OSR Parolee In Slaying

Columbus Police Seek Aid In Hunt

A second former inmate of the Ohio State reformatory was named by Columbus police today as a suspect in the robbary-slaying of a Columbus tavern owner.

Columbus Detective Chief Glenn C. Hoffman issued a nationwide appeal for police to help in a hunt for John Coulter West, 22-year-old parolee from the reformatary, and Robert Murl Daniels, 24-year-old parolee.

Circulars with the suspects' pictures are being sent to police departments throughout the country.

Both men are believed armed and are dangerous, Columbus police said.

West was received at the reformatory Jan. 16, 1947 to serve one to seven years for grand larceny in Summit county. He was paroled April 1, 1948, less than a year after Daniels was paroled. Columbus detectives said the two were friends in the institution.

The two men have been identified as the bandits who killed Earl C. Ambrose and robbed his tavern of $800 in cash on July 10. A woman who was shot as she sat in the tavern was reported in "just fair condition" in a Columbus hospital. West is sought as the trigger man who did the actual shooting.

The two are also wanted in the $8,000 robbery of another tavern earlier the same evening and for the murder of a tourist camp operator at Flat Rock, Mich.

Mercury Heads For High 80s

Despite cooler weather, which seemed to be wide-spread over the state today, Mansfielders found themselves getting warmer by the hour as the mercury reached 81 at noon with promise of going higher.

Sticky, uncomfortable conditions were predicted to return as cloudy skies brought above normal humidity.

Dry conditions over most of the state will not be helped much by a forecast of light thundershowers, the weatherman said, although cool nights are foreseen.

COUPLE UNITED IN FORMAL CHURCH RITE

Miss Norma Jean Ballentine United In Marriage to Dean Rolland Haycook.

A COLORFUL background of beauty baskets, filled with pastel glads and assorted summer flowers, was used for the setting when Miss Norma Jean Ballentine became the bride of Dean Rolland Haycook Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ballentine, 575 Bowman street, and Mr. Haycook's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haycook, 152 Rae avenue.

The pretty formal open church ceremony was solemnized with double ring service by Rev. David N. Roller. A program of nuptial music was played by Miss Mabel Zehner preceding the service.

Among the many palms were lighted seven branch candelabra which lent a soft glow to the dainty setting.

Mr. Ballentine gave his daughter in marriage.

She chose a formal wedding gown of white slipper satin, which was edged with a ruffle of Chantilly lace. The yoke was sheer and the very full skirt etenxded into a very long wide train. The long sleeves came to points over the hands. Her silk illusion veil was fingertip length, made very full and was held in place by a tiny bonnet shaped headpiece, trimmed with pearls and with scallops of pearls around the edge.

She carried a Kaferette arrangement of Sno-white roses, gardenias and white carnations.

Her attendants were Miss Lucille Hamilton, maid of honor; Miss Sally Reep, bridesmaid, and Miss Pat Ellis, flower girl.

Miss Hamilton and Miss Reep were attired in yellow and blue marquisette formal gowns, trimmed with cascade ruffles on the skirt and bustle-effect in the back. Their large picture hats were trimmed with flowers in the pastel shades, to harmonize with their bouquets. The colonial style arrangements were of lilies, pompons, yellow Gloria roses and carnations.

Miss Ellis wore a blue marquisette frock with pink rosebuds trimming the skirt. Her headpiece was a blue silk veil and she carried a silver basket filled with rosebuds.

Serving as best man for Mr Haycook was Edward Thomas jr. Ushers, who escorted the many guests to their pews, were George Slicker jr., Al Gerrick, Richard Glenn and Richard Marshall.

The bridal party received their 150 guests, following the ceremony, at the Ballentine home. A three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, centered the large serving table.

Later in the day the newlyweds left for a trip down the Sky Line drive and to Washington, D. C. For traveling Mrs. Haycook chose a light grey gaberdine suit with white accessories and her going-away corsage. After July 25 they will return to reside at 573 Bowman street.

Background for the ceremony was an altar decorated with palms, ferns and two beauty baskets of white and pale pink glads. The lighted seven-branch candelabra illuminated the scene.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown fashioned of the princess style with sweetheart neckline and two wide bands of lace insertion on either side of the front panel to the hipline where it joined the skirt, extending into a long full train. The gown was edged in the matching lace. The long fitted sleeves came to a point over the hands. Self-covered buttons trimmed the back of the dress. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Her wedding veil of silk net illusion was of fingertip length, edged in lace which matched the trimming on the bridal gown. This was held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms She carried a white Bible topped with a corsage of white roses tied with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Robert Snyder of Lexington. sister of the bride, was matron of honor She was attired in a yellow gown, made with fitted bodice, ruffled square neckline and a full tiered skirt. Miss Sue Ann Clever of Kingston. Ohio, was flower girl. The little niece of the bride wore a ballet length frock of blue, fashioned of the same style as Mrs. Snyder's. Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Lois Pollock and Miss Betty Pollock, sisters of the bridegroom. They wore matching gowns in pink, made with fitted bodices, high round necklines, cap sleeves and trimmed down the front with self-covered buttons. All of the young women wore headbands of white flowers and net to match their white bouquets of colonial style. Mrs. Snyder carried camellias and the two bridesmaids carried white carnations.

Cecil Smith of Mansfield, uncle of the bridegroom, was his best man. Ushering the guests to their pews were Robert Newman of Lexington, and Allen Sauder of Mansfield, both close friends of the couple.

Immediately following the nuptials a reception was held in the church parlors for 125 guests. Pink and white was the color scheme used for the appointments. The serving table was centered with a four tiered wedding cake which was encircled with sweetpeas. Summer bouquets decorated the parlors.

The couple left for a trip to Washington, D. C., with the bride attired in a yellow crepe dress with white accessories and a large picture hat. After Aug. 1 Mr. and Mrs. Pollock will be at home on West Main street, Lexington.

The bride and groom were graduated from Lexington high school. Mrs. Pollock has been employed at the Charles Ritter company and Mr. Pollock at the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company.

Guests were present from Mt. Gilead, Galion, Kingston, York, Pa., Mt. Vernon, Ashland and Bellville.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

As night follows day, so does a price increase follow a wage boost.

Warning that "politics should not be mixed with the atom bomb" is quite timely, as the South seems sufficiently explosive without any added ingredients.

Legislature Should Also Aid Cities

CALL for a special session of the Ohio legislature, to convene next Thursday, apparently overlooks the important matter of apportioning more of the sales tax revenues to municipalities which are greatly in need of additional funds to meet increasing operating costs, despite the pileup of a huge surplus in the state treasury.

Purpose of the special session, as announced from Columbus, is to increase old age pensions and aid to the blind; revise the sales tax law to advance non-taxable purchases from 10 cents to 40 cents, and to make an additional appropriation to the state welfare department to cover higher food and fuel costs.

It would appear that the call might well be broadened to permit action for relief of cities which are also victims of inflationary costs and which are justly entitled to a larger share of sales tax revenues.

License Withheld By FCC Minority

A 3-TO-2 DECISION by which the Federal Communications commission turned down radio broadcasting license applications of The Mansfield News-Journal and The Lorain Journal raises some interesting points in connection with the functioning of the federal radio licensing agency.

Significant is the fact that the decision was agreed upon by only three members of the seven-member board, with two holding an opposite view and two others not participating. This means that even the three-man "majority" decision of the seven-member board actually is a minority opinion and that in fact the opinion of one man was the determining factor in the decision.

A dissenting minority opinion, written by Commissioners Robert F. Jones and George E. Sterling amounts to a victory for the newspapers. Undoubtedly it will bear considerable weight when the U. S. courts eventually settle the question of whether these applicants do or do not have a right to use available radio frequencies.

These two commissioners, basing their opinion on the same hearings, the same evidence and the same laws and regulations as the three-man "majority," find the newspapers to be eminently qualified to become radio licensees. The two-man decision takes cognizance of the many public services the newspapers have performed and continue to perform to help their respective communities to grow, progress and prosper. It takes into account the confidence placed in the newspapers by the many citizens and business leaders who supported the papers' applications as against the few who opposed them.

Naturally, any wide-awake newspaper with aggressive editorial policies and with the courage to come out boldly and exercise its constitutional right of free press, will incur the enmity of persons, both in and out of government, whose special interests might be endangered.

Democracy, we believe, is government by established law, and not by opinions or ideologies of personalities who happen to land in positions to administer the law. There will be no final decision in the case of these newspapers vs. the FCC until the applicable law has been interpreted by the courts. The newspapers are taking the steps necessary to enable that decision.

Liquor Department Aroused To Action

SHOW OF ACTIVITY by state liquor control board investigators, following charges of connivance of some liquor department agents with gambling interests in the Sandusky area, provides further evidence of the need for constant surveillance in this field, in which disregard of law has been common experience.

It is a regulation of the state liquor board that no gambling devices shall be permitted on the premises of license holders, either public places or private "clubs", but the extent to which this restriction is ignored is known to all who are sufficiently interested to learn the facts.

Just why commercialized gambling should be permitted elsewhere, but not in places where intoxicants are sold, has never been clearly explained, as state law makes no such distinction and specifies that ALL such gambling is illegal.

Quite naturally, some dispensers of intoxicants regard this as discriminatory treatment and seek ways to gain the additional profit to be derived from gambling devices of various sorts—at which point "protection" can enter the picture, as now being charged against some inspectors in the Sandusky territory, which extends to adjoining Crawford county.

By mere coincidence, promised investigation of any possible liquor-gambling hookup in Mansfield and Richland county comes at a time of considerable public interest in the full-swing return of commercialized gambling to this city, after a February and March ban by Chief of Police Jesse J. Schwab, with sanction by Mayor Roy W. Vaughn. Reasons for the ban and explanation of why it was lifted have never been forthcoming from either the "no comment" chief and the "hands off" mayor—both of whom are employed to ENFORCE laws, not to choose which laws to enforce and which to ignore.

Another Rebellion In the South

THE SOUTH is at it again—but this time the secession effort is directed toward the Democratic party instead of toward the Nation as a whole, and there is no appearance of intent at armed resistance such as marked the disturbed conditions of a hundred years ago—which led to the war between the states that extended from 1861 to 1865.

With candidates for president and vice president named at Saturday's convention in Birmingham, Ala., the threat of southern Democrats is to carry their campaign into 15 states, and while there is no indication of hopefulness that their candidates will be elected, the withdrawal of this support from the Truman-Barkley candidacy will have to be taken into account in calculations as to the probable outcome of the November election.

Jim Farley has diplomatically declined to predict the November election outcome—although he could probably do it quite accurately.

As Claude Callan views it: "They find new names for old things. They used to call it sinful, but now they call it being modern."

Yes, But This Monster Seems Quite Undisturbed.

Washington Calling

Playing Political Game

By MARQUIS CHILDS

IT TOOK a great deal of persuading to get President Truman to call the 80th Congress back into session. He knows very well that it will mean a repetition of the game of veto and recrimination that was played out in the end of the session that closed just before the opening of the Republican convention.

What may well have been the clinching argument came from Mr. Truman's political managers. They pointed out that the Democratic till is practically empty. The funds are simply not forthcoming to conduct a national campaign with costly radio hookups and country-wide tours.

But with Congress in session, it was argued, the President would have a ready-made sounding board. A message by the President of the United States to Congress is front-page news even though he is a candidate for re-election.

The Republicans are certain to come back in an angry mood. They will do everything they can to put the President on the spot as revenge for his boldness in calling them back.

The more rebellious are even asking whether it might not be better to refuse to come back. There is nothing to compel Congress to return. Such a refusal would create an extraordinary situation and the President could tell the country that the Republicans were afraid to face the issues.

* * *

Filibuster Expected.

THE political hazards in a special session are real. The President can't risk a great deal because he has so little to lose That is not true of the GOP.

The Republican candidate for president, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, will be seeking to shape a campaign by speeches and statements that appeal to a wide range of voters. But by their actions the Republican Congress can nullify his stand and make him look foolish.

This is one of the chief points urged on the President by those who favored the step he took dramatically in his acceptance speech.

The Democrats will, of course, have their own troubles. Republican leaders in Congress plan immediately to push civil-rights legislation called for in the platforms of both parties.

This will precipitate a southern filibuster in the Senate. Such a filibuster was discounted in the discussions leading up to the recall of Congress. It was considered quite likely that it would last at least a month.

That interlude would even help the President's position since it would put off until the fall, when the campaign really warms up, the showdown over housing and inflation. In the dog days of August the country can ignore the marathon of southern oratory, which will gradually wear itself out.

Then, as an interest in politics revives in September, the President can throw the book at the Republicans encamped unhappily on Capitol Hill.

The southern marathon is likely to defeat any civil-rights measures. That will give the GOP a chance to blame Mr. Truman's party for failure to carry out platform pledges. But clearly he cannot be made to accept the responsibility on this score, since the South in convention seceded from the Democratic party of the North.

So the country is in for a long and bitter siege while the rival branches of government belabor each other, as they have so often done in the past, with every weapon in sight. It will be a strange spectacle for the allegedly most powerful nation on earth at a moment when so much is balanced on the knife-edge of destiny.

My strength is made perfect in weakness.—II Cor. 12:9.

The Nation Today

Truman's Bold Stroke

By JAMES MARLOW

ONE THING sticks in your mind, now that the Democratic convention is over.

It's this: What chance do the Democrats have of winning the presidency and capturing control of Congress in the November elections?

The delegates to the convention know that they have a fight on their hands to beat the Republicans in November.

The great string of Democratic victories, which started in 1932, broke in 1946 when the Republicans won control of Congress.

The tide turned against the Democrats then. There have been no elections since, so there's nothing to show how the tide is running—or how swiftly.

With President Roosevelt dead, the Democrats have lost his political genius and vote-winning magic.

His tight control on the Democratic party held it together. President Truman hasn't shown yet that he has the same grip.

That's illustrated by the anger and walkout of southern delegates on the convention floor over the civil rights issue. Mr. Truman made it an issue when he laid down his civil rights program last February.

Before the convention started, some of the biggest Democratic politicians didn't want Mr. Truman re-nominated.

That kind of feeling by Democrats about the leader of their party—since the voting public has read of how they felt—isn't a vote-puller.

The splits and divided thinking within the party—such as over civil rights—doesn't help roll up votes either.

In winning election to the presidency four times, Mr. Roosevelt's victories were so large over the country generally that he could have won without the votes of the southern states.

But this year no one is predicting any such kind of sweep for the Democratic ticket of Mr. Truman and Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky.

In a close contest with the Republicans, the votes of those southern states might mean the difference between victory and defeat for Mr. Truman.

So he seems likely to suffer if some of the southern states refuse to support him and throw their electoral votes to some one else, although not necessarily to a Republican.

* * *

On the Brighter Side.

SO FAR all that's been said here has been on the gloomy side of the Democrats' chances. But a big change might happen between now and election day in November.

For one thing, Mr. Truman accepted the nomination with a speech that brought the delegates shouting to their feet. Until then, except for their outbursts of anger over civil rights, the delegates had been a dreary looking crew.

If he can continue to spark the politicians of his party, he may be able to pump real hope and vote-getting energy into them.

He predicted victory for the Democrats and right on the spot opened his campaign with a move that is intended to put the Republicans over a barrel.

That's when he announced he is calling Congress back into special session—it's a Republican controlled Congress — to pass laws he thinks are needed, like stopping inflation and providing housing.

The Republicans in their 1948 platform of promises of what they'll do if elected, spoke of a desire to put a bridle on inflation.

In this special session Mr. Truman will give them a chance—in full public view—to meet his requests or—

He'll then certainly go before the country with one attack after another on the Republicans.

The action of the Republican-controlled Congress may be the thing which decides the election this year.

It's a bold stroke by Mr. Truman. He's taken the lead at this point in an effort to put the Republicans on the defensive.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Barkley Worked For Others, Not Self

By DREW PEARSON

(Editor's Note: The brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, today goes to Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky.)

* * *

WASHINGTON—If you took a poll of senators as to the best-loved man in the United States Senate, the winner—among both Democrats and Republicans — probably would be Alben Barkley of Kentucky.

A few years ago the vote would not have been that way. Barkley used to have a sharp tongue and a fiery temper. Once he referred to his now good friend Senator Tom Connally as "that boob senator from Texas," and once, when Tydings of Maryland was demanding a processing tax on shoddy (wool), Barkley remarked: "The senator ought to know something about shoddy, since that is something on which he is an expert."

Then there was also that memorable occasion in 1944 when the Kentucky mountaineer that lurks in Alben Barkley's soul flared to the surface in a vitriolic denunciation of Franklin Roosevelt for his veto of the tax bill.

That speech—that flare-up of temper — probably affected the history of the USA more than any Senate speech in half a decade. For had Barkley not lashed out at Roosevelt, FDR undoubtedly would have picked him for vice president at the Chicago convention three months later. In that case Alben Barkley, not Harry Truman would be president of the United States today.

* * *

Barkley's Sorrow.

AS THE years have passed, Alben Barkley has seen his share of sorrow and disappointment. For a long time his invalid wife lay almost at the point of death. Day and night nurses were necessary. Unlike some senators, Barkley has no lucrative law firm or independent income to augment his Senate salary; and for a long time he economized, forewent an automobile, and filled lecture engagements to pay the doctors' bills.

Barkley also watched a long procession of his friends leave the Senate for rewards in other fields. Jimmie Byrnes, Harold Burton, Lewis Schwellenbach, Homer Bone were elevated to the judiciary. Harry Truman was picked for vice president.

But patiently Barkley continued in the thankless job of leading the Democratic side of the Senate in the exhausting rough-and-tumble of pushing his party's legislation through Congress.

On one occasion, Barkley even urged the appointment of Jimmie Byrnes to a Supreme Court vacancy which he, Barkley, had secretly hoped to get himself. But when he heard that Byrnes was interested, he went to the White House and asked Roosevelt to give the post to Jimmie.

* * *

Barkley's Humor.

WHILE sorrow and disappointment have moulded Alben's character, they have not made him bitter. The fiery temper has been dampened, and Barkley is more philosophical, more understanding, more of a friend of man. But the famed Barkley sense of humor is just the same—only the senator doesn't use it so pointedly on his colleagues as he once did when the late Huey Long was bragging to the Senate about his own education.

"Did the senator ever study music?" interrupted Barkley.

"A little," replied Huey modestly.

"Then suppose," shot Barkley, "the senator sings for us—a little."

Barkley calls dressing for dinner putting on the "heavy harness." When Chip Robert asked how the ladies liked his new mustache, Barkley replied: "Like a rabbit does a briar patch." Toasting the late Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, then aged 80 but looking 60, Barkley said: "May Mrs. Stotsbury live to look her age."

* * *

Thumbs Down on Alben.

ONLY a few White House insiders plus Barkley himself know that President Truman was not too anxious to have the senator from Kentucky as his vice presidential running-mate. There was nothing personal about Truman's opposition. Though the two men are not close, and though Barkley last March complained that the President hadn't seen fit to consult either him or Sam Rayburn for three months, the President has a high regard for Barkley.

However, he told close advisers that the juxtaposition of their two neighboring states—Missouri and Kentucky — added nothing geographically to the ticket, whereas the Republican candidates—coming from New York and California—had a wide geographical appeal.

Also Truman thought Barkley's age—70—would make it difficult for him to stage a vigorous campaign.

The President, however, had told his leaders that he would leave the convention completely open when it came to selecting a vice president, and he kept his word.

It was Senate Secretary Leslie Biffle who overrode the President's wishes and privately lobbied among delegates to nominate the venerable senator from Kentucky. In doing so, Biffle knew that, regardless of age or geography, what the Truman ticket needed most was the pacifying influence of a man who has helped heal wounds in the Senate and can now help to heal them in the sore and smarting Democratic party.

It'll Make a Difference

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—Oh, brother! This one I want to see through. This is history. This is drama of a sort which will bring out the finest acting in the boys.

And, through the medium of the old political change of pace and fast cross-and-double cross, this is a situation which might actually give the average voter a break.

Already hearts are breaking all over Washington. Wails of anguish have been emanating from Capitol Hill throughout the week-end, interspersed with roaring cries of rage and fury.

The 80th Congress has been called back in special session to, as the saying goes, put up or shut up—and the boys are acting like they didn't know this marble game was for keeps.

Now it is considerably beyond the limited capacities of this correspondent to delve into the brains of presidents and then divulge their motives. In addition, I am not completely conversant with the latest developments of the current international crisis.

So this is no effort to announce why President Truman called the special session—nor is it an attempt to evaluate the world situation to see whether the session was necessary.

It merely is a report on how the recall of Congress seems to be affecting domestic politics, and how it may, ere long, have a far-reaching effect on the laws of the land, and the little taxpayer whose voice often is lost in the storm of oratory during campaign years.

Now it takes no raving genius to note that the President's move not only angered the Republicans, but also frightened them. And, if you gaze a bit deeper into the situation, it can be seen that many members of the President's own party are more than slightly upset by Mr. Truman's surprise move.

* * *

Startled By Suddenness.

AFTER all, not in nearly a hundred years has such a situation developed. And it is easy to see why it has not been considered politically wise to have Congress in session between convention time and election time in these years divisible by four.

If the light is not burning in the Capitol dome, those congressmen running for re-election can bound from platform to platform about their baliwicks, promising the people to pass almost any kind of legislation desired in that particular locality.

The theory is that if the boys fail to keep their promises several months later when Congress reconvenes, the people already will have forgotten—or at least their memories will not last until the next election. And, of course, if worst comes to worst, the solons can always say that conditions changed greatly during the period after they made their campaign promises.

But unfortunately, short as it is, the public memory is long enough to last between July and November—and domestic conditions can hardly undergo any drastic transformations between the time a Congressman makes promise-laden weekend speech back home and the time legislation in question comes up for action the next week!

And, under the circumstances, the boys may well have to quit promising so much or else start doing more—or not get elected.

Party-wise, this congressional recall is considered particularly bad from a political point of view.

Both national platforms already have been constructed and presented to the people, but it is safe to say that neither party expected immediately to have to start transforming platforms into legislation.

All in all, it is rather surprising that the President's plans were not at least suspected. Politically speaking, it's the perfect move for him. After all, a President must continue to administrate, even during campaigns, and therefore remains on the spot while the recessed congressmen do not have to legislate and thus can take cover and operate from the shadows.

This way they must share the spotlight—and in election years, that can be a hot spot!

Timely Editorial

Causes Of High Prices.

Rising prices—a bogey with which housewives are especially familiar—are in the news again. Rising prices come as a natural result of cheap money. Cheap money comes as a natural result of the high speed manufacture of money by the government. The high speed manufacture comes as a result of government's continued needs for spending, loaning and giving.

The increased spending comes as a result of an increase in the rate of federal employment of approximately 500 new employes a day since last January, the cancellation of billions of lease-lend debts, the additional billions of gifts to foreign nations such as Great Britain, Greece and Turkey and the current gifts of even more billions under the Marshall Plan.

The important point concerning high prices today is that the American people cannot have a plentitude of goods if their government continues to cook up schemes for giving goods away; nor can they have stable money as long as it is deliberately made cheap.—Columbus Dispatch.

Buzzing All Beekeepers

By CALVIN A. BYERS

LAST Sunday, in the pavilion at North Lake park, of our home city, a group of men and women sat down to a covered-dish dinner. It was a comfortable, informal occasion, where an atmosphere of sincere fellowship and genuine interest prevailed.

Following the meal four bee inspectors from neighboring counties related their experiences. Soon the whole room buzzed as each conversed with his neighbor. These folks were members of our local beekeepers association.

Outside the open door an occasional B. & O. railroad train went noisily by. Below, a stream of fine motor cars crept quietly around North Lake. Most likely neither the officials of the great B. & O. nor the passengers in the motor cars had any idea that the group of men and women so earnestly discussing bees were significant to their personal health and way of life. Yet what beekeepers do should interest everybody!

For great carloads of lime will be hauled over the B. & O. because of the work of that beekeepers' group; and were it not for such groups over the nation, every workman's table might be barren and meagre of nutritious food. Lime on the farm means clover; clover and its kindred legumes mean nitrogen brought from the air and converted into protein for milk and beef—also nectar for honey bees and honey for the tables of Americans.

Clover does not grow well in most parts of Ohio unless the soil is limed. Clover depends a great deal upon the pollinating visits of honey bees to produce seed. Clover seed is scarce and very high priced in this locality. We ought to have more bees.

An alsike clover field that is well pollinated might yield 10 bushels per acre. Buckwheat fields will yield almost double if properly pollinated.

Fruit orchards, too, depend much upon bees wherever frequent spring showers are the rule, as they are in this locality.

Pollen is too heavy when damp to be windblown successfully. Unless the pollen finds them, the flowers will not mean fruit. Four 4-H Clubs and granges offer local bee men interesting young farmers who under wise leadership, soon begin to realize that good clover fields make richer communities, in every sense of the word. May these unpretentious busy bee-keepers keep steadily buzzing!

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, July 20.

THE astral indications must be read as continued situations of duplicity, fraud and all manner of underhand and treacherous circumstances, affecting business, financial, and family life. Besides putting the feelings and emotions under pressure and strain, the mentality may also be confused, variable and impressionable. Likewise the judgment may be so vacillating as to beget worry, error, anxiety, under stress of angry words and acts.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is, are urged to work on a plan of action based upon principle, integrity, and honesty not on a policy of expediency, trickery and subterfuge. The general tenor of events is toward treachery, with pernicious undercurrents which are difficult and chaotic. The emotions, and feelings may be wayward and impulsive, possibly eccentric or erratic.

A child born on this day may have a variable and complicated career in which it may be overwhelmed by its inner urges rather than sound judgment and high principle

$85,000,000 Spent By Sportsmen

Annual Outlay For Clothes Heaviest

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Ohio hunters and fishermen spend $85,000,000 annually in pursuit of Ohio's wildlife resources, the Ohio division of conservation and natural resources reported today.

The average hunting license holder in the state, the conservation division said, spent $41.88 in 1947, while the average fisherman put out $56.95 in efforts to catch fish in Ohio's streams.

Nearly 5,000 hunters polled by the Ohio wildlife research unit at Ohio State university in cooperation with the state conservation division reported spending 31.10 per cent of their outlay for clothing; 28.98 per cent for guns; 11.77 per cent for ammunition; 12.08 per cent for gas and oil and lesser amounts for meals and lodging.

Slightly less than 3,000 fishermen reporting in the poll said they spent 22.15 per cent of their fishing expenditure for tackle; 15.48 per cent for gas and oil; 8.71 per cent for meals; 6.07 per cent for lodging; 6.15 per cent for bait and 4.86 per cent for clothing.

The report showed 9,158 businesses in the state dependent on wildlife resources or the sports associated with wildlife. These include establishments engaged in selling, servicing and manufacment, commercial fisheries, fur dealers, commercial game farms, turing hunting and fishing equipment, commercial fisheries, fur dealers, commercial game farms, dog kennel operators and the like.

At least 21 different kinds of businesses are known to handle hunting and fishing equipment in Ohio, but hardware stores polled in a 13-county area reported that 38.6 per cent of their total income is dependent on sale of hunting and fishing equipment. General stores reported that 21.4 per cent of their income is traced to sale of such equipment.

Fifteen representative Ohio counties were used in the store-to-store survey to determine how much hunters and fishermen spend. Similar questionnaires were sent to a representative number of hunters and fishermen, whose names were picked at random.

Church Group Has Lots of Fun

Single Officer Does All the Work

By NITA BRANSON

Mrs. Joseph Morganstern is all the officers there are for the Thursday Nighters of St. Paul Lutheran church.

One of the charter members who formed the organization, Mrs. Morganstern has tried each year to get someone else to take over the job as president, secretary and treasurer. Luckily, since the group was formed primarily as a social group, there are not too many official duties.

"No one else seems to want to take the job, though," Mrs. Morganstern said Thursday night as the group sat around the picnic supper table at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Soka, members of the group.

"But then, we don't have much money in our treasury and there's not much correspondence, so really one person can take care of everything. Only I wish it could be someone else besides me for a change."

'CHIEF COOK' TOO

She's been "chief cook and bottle washer" for 12 years and the other members show no disposition to change her status.

However, the initial social program has developed into a project one in spite of casual and informal parliamentary law.

"The nursery at the church is our project," Mrs. Morganstern said. "We all got together, washed down walls, painted and redecorated the room and laid new carpet. Each Christmas we buy a lot of new toys for the nursery and keep it in condition throughout the year."

Their most important service project came during the war when members kept in constant contact with the 71 boys from the church who were overseas. Gifts throughout the year, packages and letters went out from members of this group.

WORLD-WIDE INTEREST

Since the war, they have kept up their world-wide interest by packing boxes of clothing and sending them to the Lutheran World Action warehouse at Easton, Pa., where they are shipped overseas.

"We've also sent packages to CARE from time to time," members said. "And in addition to the boxes, we pay the expense of postage, too."

When the group was first organized, Rev. Herman L. Gilbert was pastor and their spiritual adviser. Now Rev. John G. Gensel has taken over where Rev. Gilbert left off.

"We have a lot of fun together and do a little good, too," Mrs. Morganstern commented as she speared a "hot dog" for her sandwich.

Arbitration Bid Accepted

NEWARK — (AP) — The Pharis Tire and Rubber company and the CIO United Rubber Workers union agreed Saturday to accept the offer of the United States conciliation service to arbitrate a wage dispute.

The dispute has kept the rubber plant, Newark's second largest industry, employing 1,200 workers, closed since May 1.

Willard A. Hill, president of local 21, said in Akron that the union's international officers have ion had accepted the offer of the conciliation service. He added, arranged to take part in meetings with company officials as soon as they can be arranged."

BRIDGE JOB PLANNED

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The State Highway department hopes to see the Bellepoint bridge over the Scioto river a $540,000 project begun in 1946 — completed this fall. Robert F. Werner, division engineer, said steel shortages had delayed the work.

Post Office to Issue Two Commemorative Stamps Soon

Two commemorative stamps will be issued next month, Acting Postmaster Curtis Ford announced today.

A three-cent postage stamp will be issued through the Niagara Falls, N. Y., post office Aug. 2. It will commemorate 100 years of friendship between the United States and Canada.

The stamp will be printed in blue, with the design arranged horizontally.

The central design is an old bridge known as the Niagara Railway suspension bridge. Above this in three lines of dark Gothic lettering are the words, "A Century of Friendship United States-Canada 1848-1948." Across the lower border in white Gothic are the words, "United States Postage 3c."

Another three-cent commemorative stamp will be issued through the Frederick, Md., post office Aug. 9. This stamp will honor Francis Scott Key. It will be printed in red and the design arranged horizontally.

The central design consists of a portrait of Francis Scott Key with his name in white Gothic on a dark background below. Draped on the left and right sides of the portrait are American flags of the period of 1814 and today, respectively.

In the lower left corner is the old Key home and in the lower right corner Fort McHenry with dark Gothic lettering on ribbons identifying each.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations should send not more than 10 addressed envelopes to the postmaster of the city where the stamp is being issued. A postal note or money order to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed should be enclosed.
